Customer Appreciation Event raises money for Jill's House

Reston, VA, June 6, 2009 - Curry's Auto Service held an Open Shop Day event to celebrate a newly decorated showroom and to thank the community for their support. Curry's continued their support of Jill's House by collecting donations for several raffle prizes during the event. Jill's House is a local organization that provides care and support to children with special needs and their families by overnight respite and therapy programs.

The Reston shop, located by the intersection of Rt. 7 and Baron Cameron Drive, was updated with an outdoor patio, a more comfortable showroom featuring new flooring, decorative accents and a customer desk, and replacement of the shop garage doors. This location is the first showroom to feature a new collection of "Curry" memorabilia featuring a past event t-shirt, customer cars and candid shots from many of the past car shows and events hosted by Curry's.

Many of the attendees came to take advantage of the free 5-point car inspection that was being offered. The inspection included checking the AC, fluids, tires, under the hood check and a battery test. "The battery tester with the print out was very helpful", said Lorene Ward, who had her VW Bug inspected. She added that she's never seen a tool like that before. "It (the check) was quick and the staff had a new battery installed in no time." "I really appreciate that this was free." Due to the success of the car check, Curry's plans to hold a similar check at their new location in Arlington later this summer.

Several prizes were raffled off during the event, including a free set of tires. Neeraj Gupta, the winner of the tires, was very elated and relieved since he needed some replacement tires. An ipod, GPS and other items were raffled off. The raffle tickets were free with a voluntarily donation to Jill's House. Over $350 was raised and was presented to Jill's House. The Open House festivities also included handing out some free Curry beach balls. Complementary hot dogs, snow cones and other snacks were also offered.

Long time Curry customer, Mark Taylor, showed off his Yellow Lotus. Court Hicks brought in his red Toyota Supra for an emission inspection. The next Curry event will be held at the Arlington location on August 8th and will feature a car care clinic as well as the 5 point car inspection. For more information, go to www.currysauto.com.
